

Nicholas A. Gowen is a litigation partner at Burke, Warren, MacKay & Serritella, P.C., a full service, Chicago-based law firm. During his 15 year legal career, Mr. Gowen has represented businesses, individuals and law firms in a variety of commercial disputes, including those involving intellectual property, trade secrets, employment matters, real estate litigation, and other business litigation matters in courts throughout the country.

Mr. Gowen has published numerous articles in legal journals and magazines during his career and been involved in leadership roles in organizations serving the legal community. Mr. Gowen is also a member of the Board of Directors for Project H.O.O.D. (Helping Others Obtain Destiny), an organization focused on establishing community and economic development programming for underrepresented youth in the Woodlawn and Englewood communities of Chicago.

Mr. Gowen was honored as one of Chicago's "Top 40 under 40 Game Changers" by Ariel Investments and The Urban Business Roundtable and selected as an "Illinois Rising Star" by Illinois Super Lawyers Magazine from 2008 through 2016.

In addition to his active legal practice, Mr. Gowen spent more than 12 years as a Visiting Instructor of Political Science at the University of Illinois at Chicago, teaching undergraduate courses focused on the Courts, the Judicial Process, and trial advocacy.

Mr. Gowen was born and raised on the south side of Chicago and is a product of the Chicago Public Schools. He received his B.A. in political science with honors from the University of Illinois at Chicago, where he was admitted to Phi Beta Kappa, and his J.D., cum laude, from the University of Illinois College of Law.